Dr. McGlynn Excommunicated.

The Catholic News, of New York, publishes the following:

To the Very Reverend Clergy and the Faithful Laity of the Archdiocese of New York:

Be it known, that on the 4th day of May, 1887, the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda admonished the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, late rector of St. Stephen's Church, in this city, that he had already rendered himself liable to ecclesiastical censure by disobeying the positive command of the Sovereign Pontiff, given January 17, 1887, to deal leniently with him, the Sacred Congregation refrained from inflicting censure, and, offering him a further opportunity to be heard in his own behalf, gave him final peremptory orders to present himself in Rome within forty days from the receipt of the letter containing such orders, under pain of excommunication, to be incurred ipso facto et nominatim.

This letter was duly delivered to Rev. Dr. McGlynn, and as he allowed the days of grace to pass unheeded, it became our sad duty to notify him that he had incurred by his own act this penalty of excommunication by name, whereby he is excluded from the communion of the church, from its sacraments and participation in its prayers, and that he persevere in his contumacy, deprived of the right after death to Christian burial.

It has also become our duty to declare to the clergy and laity of our diocese, which we do by these letters, that the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn is excommunicated, nominatim, with all the penalties attached to this censure by the canons of the church. (Signed)

MICHAEL AUGUSTINE,
Archbishop of New York.

O. E. McDONNELL, Sec'y.

New York, July 8, 1887.

The anti-poverty meeting in New York last night was the largest yet held, many persons being drawn thither, no doubt, in view of the recent excommunication of Dr.
McGlynn. The Academy of Music was crammed and the management found it necessary to hire Irving Hall, directly opposite, for an overflow meeting. This, too, was soon packed, and hundreds were turned away unable to find admission. James J.
Gahan, of the Catholic Herald, presided over the meeting in the Academy of Music, and John Penny, of St. Stephen's parish, took charge of the meeting in Irving Hall. Miss Mum and her Concordia chorus, composed of members of Dr. McGlynn's St. Stephen's choir, were present in the Academy of Music, and as Dr. McGlynn walked upon the stage sang, "Marching through Georgia." The cheers and applause swelled until nearly four thousand persons were upon their feet, and a thunderous roar went out to those in the streets, and was there taken up and spread to Irving Hall. And the word went through the multitudes that Dr. McGlynn was before the people, and that he was even then awaiting a pause in their applause to begin his speaking.

Chairman Gahan, in his introductory remarks, said: "We are here to-night to let Rome know that, in matters political, not one jot of our allegiance is rendered to any power or potentate, but, in its entirety, is given to the laws and Constitution of the United States. [Cheers.] All of you went to your several churches this morning. In not one church did any one dare to stand up and read the decree of Michael Augustine Corrigan.
[Hisses and cat-calls.] When the church authorities attack and depose a holy man, whose very shoe latches they are unworthy to untie, they go to the daily press to promulate their edicts. They do not publish them from their holy pulpits.

Dr. McGlynn was received with uproarious applause. In the course of his speech he said: "It is a wonderful evidence of the wisdom and goodness of the God we adore that in the midst of the trials and perplexities of our life, while our minds are troubled and our heart strings torn, that there is yet one clear and simple guide which is given to every being, and which, if followed and obeyed by him, will lead to a satisfactory and perfect deliverance. It is a wonderfully simple thing. It resides within him, and its only requirements are a perfectly subservient and humble will to that conscience which teaches men to do only what is right.
This is the natural law of truth, which, of necessity, precedes all real law. Our God is a merciful as well as a wise God. He will never condemn any being who follows the dictates of his conscience, even be that conscience an erring one. In obeying it he is forever obeying the will of God, as is a dogma of the Catholic faith, and according to all Christian philosophy and teaching the man who goes against his conscience sins against the Holy Ghost; and despite the power of any authority, even the Pope, if a man does or says anything in obedience to that power, if in so doing he goes against his conscience he sins. Even if a high Roman tribunal summons a man before them for teaching the truth which he knows to exist, and if that tribunal should condemn his doctrines without giving them a trial, and command him to retract them, it is his duty before God to refuse to do so [cheers, prolonged], and if it was in his power, as it at one time was—but, thank God, no longer is—to imprison and martyr the truth, and the persons of those who have read God's word in nature before they have been able to see it—should they summon him and command him to retract, under the penalty of imprisonment or martyrdom, it is his duty to resist, and even be burned alive at the stake, rather than commit the unpardonable sin against the Holy Ghost of declining what his conscience believed to be false."

The speaker here referred, as recently, to the imprisonment of Galileo, and stated that with him that man should say, "I submit to your sentence, while detesting your tyranny. It is no tribute to God to poke out our eyes so that we cannot see the truth for ourselves. It is the teaching of Catholic theology, though that theology is often perverted to gratify the lust and crime of those who are in power and who teach it (for the theology is always good, though the teachers are often wicked); all truth is one.

No two truths can clash with each other, for all truth comes from God; and where, through the ignorance of the interpreter and other causes, the Word of God in the Bible or elsewhere is made to seem to clash with some of the indisputable truths of nature, it is not that the Word of God is wrong, but that it has been falsely represented. If you want to see true devotion to the Catholic Church, go where it is in a minority and with little power, as in Ireland or Germany. I re-assert that I know a German American bishop, an intimate friend of Cardinal Gibbons, who said that the Roman authorities wanted to have a nuncio at the court of King Grover the First." Here the Doctor stated that the reference to King Grover was only a joke. "It is a droll and inconceivable one—the idea of having a nuncio at Washington—but entirely in keeping with the doings of those who conceived the idea of sending two Italian prelates to Catholic Ireland. It was with a thorough knowledge of the matter I had in hand that I said an Italian nuncio would be a source of corruption and slavery to the Catholic Church in America. I also said to an eminent Catholic lawyer that, with my knowledge of Rome, I thought it better to show one's teeth than to act humble pie when endeavoring to get favors from it."

No formal announcement of the excommunication was made in the Cathedral nor in any of the principal Catholic churches in New York yesterday. No instructions were issued to pastors concerning the matter, each pastor being left to exercise his own judgment in reading or not reading the letter from his pulpit.

Dr. McGlynn affects indifference over his excommunication and insists that he is still a good Catholic and intends to live up to his obligations as a priest just as far as the authorities of the church will permit him.

Is There a Cure for Consumption?

We answer unreservedly, yes! If the patient commences in time the use of Dr.
Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and exercises proper care. If allowed to run its course too long all medicine is powerless to stay it. Dr. Pierce never deceives a patient by holding out a false hope for the sake of pecuniary gain. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of patients when nothing else seemed to avail. Your druggist has it. Send two stamps for Dr.
Pierce's complete treatise on consumption,
